

End SuperPACs

Stop billionaires from buying our democracy.

The Bottleneck

Since Citizens United (2010), SuperPACs have pumped $9.1 billion¹ into federal elections. Elon Musk has already pledged another $100 million into his SuperPAC for the 2028 midterms; proof that one billionaire can tilt an entire cycle.

The rules are rigged: An average voter is capped at roughly $3,300 per candidate per election² (primary + general), while corporations can spend unlimited sums through SuperPACs and dark money shells. *Whether a bill in Congress enjoys 0 percent or 100 percent public support, its chance of passing hovers around 35 percent³ *because money, not majorities, calls the shots.

Every major social change front hits the same pay to play wall:

- Affordable Housing → Wall Street and landlord PACs block rent control and zoning reform.
- Climate Action → Fossil fuel lobby bankrolls delay.
- Immigration and Criminal Justice reform → Private prison operators push harsher laws.
- Digital Privacy → Big Tech lobbyists gut data rights bills.

Different issues, one roadblock—billionaire money and corporate lobbyists. Until we fix campaign finance, nothing else moves no matter who is President.

Our Mission

Pass a constitutional or statutory fix by July 4, 2026 that:

- Abolishes SuperPACs and dark money shells.
- Establishes public campaign financing so ideas not bankrolls decide races.
- Pilot public financing models in at least two states by 2027.

Three Step Strategy

Step	2025-26 Milestone	What Success Looks Like
1 • 3.5 % Critical-Mass Petition	Digital and street petition; Augmented Reality murals and QR stickers in every state.	Politicians, media and courts cannot ignore the groundswell.

2 • 250 Citizen Assemblies	Local teach ins trained via Spearit playbook.	Grassroots delegations draft model legislation and testify nationwide. (≈ 12,500 local delegates shaping draft legislation)
3 • Supreme Court Challenge	Identify plaintiff state (Maine, tentative) and file by Q2 '26.	Court forced to revisit Citizens United precedent.

What Makes Us Different

Art as a Weapon – Augmented reality books, installations, murals translate campaign finance arcana into a 60-second story anyone can grasp.

Decentralized Muscle – Trained volunteers replicate teach ins like an open source movement franchise.

People Powered Funding – No corporate cash; future community treasury

Timeline at a Glance

- Spring '25 → Soft launch teach ins
- Fall '25 → 50 assemblies completed; model bill released for comment
- Summer '25 → 50 state petition blitz
- Jan '26 → 250 citizen assemblies completed
- July 4 '26 → National March and filing of case

How You Can Help—Right Now

1. Read our Spear-it Manifesto
2. Help us organize a local Teach-in
3. Connect us with friends and potential partner orgs!
4. Submit art concepts for the AR launch gallery—visuals that turn complex policy into a 60-second story.

Quick FAQ

Is this partisan?

No—corruption infects every party. We back any policy that restores one person one vote power.

What about corporate free speech?

Human speech is protected; corporate spending is a policy choice. Supreme Court precedents have changed before—Brown v. Board overturned Plessy v. Ferguson.

How is funding handled now?

All donations are small dollar, publicly disclosed and capped—no dark money, ever.

Sources

¹OpenSecrets.org, total outside spending by SuperPACs, 2010–2024.

²Federal Election Commission, individual contribution limits for the 2023–2024 cycle.

³Gilens, Martin & Page, Benjamin. Testing Theories of American Politics (2014).

Together, we dismantle the pay to play machine and return democracy to the people.